

The Deanery, Lincoln.

14th November, 1912.

^m
Dear Eversole,

Draw your twenty per cent last year of course as soon as it is allotted, just as you like. I am sorry I didn't mention it, I thought it was understood.

It is very cold here, and I am inclined to think we shall have a cold Winter everywhere. I hope Frank will soon be well

I am just off to Convocation in London so forgive more.

Yours very sincerely,

T. C. Fry

J. S. Eversole

Barkhamsted Farm

Redolers

Alta

Canada.

