AFRAID OF POWDER?
CERTAINLY NOT,
IF ITS ON A PRETTY FACE.

What to write I've thought in vain, but I will just ask you in this simple strain.

Not to study, the wit I try to promote.
By asking you to accept this simple

The Big & the Great

When they to History's judgment: seat shall come,
Which will shine glorious in the eye of men, Auge Germany or heroic Belgium?

Which will be hailed Great, Wilhelm or Albert, then?

My feet was so Frozen
my toes were so Black
the sister has skinned them thank goodness for that my toes are now Pink and as nice as can be that's the work of the sister

To Sister

Happy the days that I did spend Under thy care, Oh! Sister, friend
And this is the heart felt wish of mine
That life's choicest blessing upon thee shine

Think of me when in the Tub
Remember me at every scrub.
And if the water be too hot Lather away and forget - me - not

I write not here, for fortune,
I write not here, for fame;
But just to be remembered,
And, thus insert my name;

J. Kewley.

With many many thanks for heaps of kindnesses and cheery messages, all of which I shall never forget and, with every hope, that, in the future we may have "less kind and more gayles".

Genl. R. Jenkins,
Major R.F.A.

Be what you would seem to be - or if you would like it put more simply:-

Ever imagine yourself not to be otherwise than what it might appear to others that what you were or might have been was not otherwise than what you had been would have appeared to them to be otherwise.

When I had kissed her white, white throat,
She smuggled down, against my coat,
And I could feel - Oh, Gods above! -
Her fine, lithe body, thrill with love, Her eyes green pools to wonder at, -
She was a friendly Pussy Cat.
