Creator Information

Authority Name Red Deer Advocate

Authority History The Red Deer Advocate is a community newspaper based in Red Deer, Alberta. The newspaper was founded by the Fleming family under the name Red Deer Echo in 1901. O.A. Butterfield leased the newspaper in 1902 and changes its name to the Alberta Advocate in 1903. The Advocate Publishing Co. Ltd. purchased the newspaper by 1905, and renamed it the Red Deer Advocate in 2007. In 1926 the Red Deer Advocate merged with the Red Deer News.

It has published weekly, biweekly, and daily. Since 2016, it publishes nearly daily, excluding Sundays and Mondays.

The Red Deer Advocate also publishes Central Alberta Life and owns several area town newspapers including the Bashaw Star (Bashaw), Castor Advance (Castor), Lacombe Express (Lacombe), Pipestone Flyer (Pipestone / Wetaskiwin), Ponoka News (Ponoka), Rimbey Reivew (Rimbey), Stettler Independent (Stettler), and Sylvan Lake News (Sylvan Lake). It also published the Red Deer Express until 2016. The Advocate printer's press and mailroom closed July 1, 2019.
