Creator Information

Authority Name Wells, Buck

Authority History Buck Wells was born in Lloydminster, Saskatchewan, to parents Mary and Frank Wells on June 17, 1945. The family included 8 boys and 3 girls. They later relocated to Red Deer, Alberta where they had a construction business.

Buck credits his interest in music from his older brother Fred. He formed a band with his brothers Herb and Fred called the Wells Brothers Three band and hosted the Rocky Mountain Music show for four years along side them. The show won the Liberty Award in 1960 for the broadcast. After the television show ended the brothers toured the province of Ontario for another 3 years before disbanding.

Buck went on to form numerous other bands and act as a solo artist over his long career touring Alberta and Western Canada. He toured with notable act the Canadian Sweethearts in 1972. As well as The Winfield Amateurs.

Buck moved around for music and performing, including living in Calgary and Edmonton as well as elsewhere. In the 1980s and 1990s, Buck regularly played in the Buffalo Hotel in Red Deer under the name of "That Buffalo Buck."

Buck also spent time assisting homeless people and other vulnerable populations, including volunteering with Shining Mountains running the "Buck Bus" or "Buck Truck", a food truck serving sandwiches and soup to people in need. Buck resided in Red Deer, Alberta until his passing on October 19, 2023.
